Our three weekly community Zoom calls are a great way to explore and discuss particular areas of interest – and to meditate together

The SMN Virtual Bar with Paul Kieniewicz

• Every Friday • 6:30 to 7:45 pm (BST)

Paul writes: 'Until the pandemic passes and we resume our physical meetings, I'm proposing a regular virtual bar where SMN members can meet online. Come, bring a glass of wine or one of your favourite cocktails – or a cup of tea – and we can share some of our recent insights together.'

Into the Stillness with Peter Fenwick

• Every Sunday • 6:00 to 6:45 pm (BST)

Meditation has always played an important role in the Network, and not only at our conferences. All our founders were regular meditators, and George Blaker even had a special 'blue room' dedicated to this practice. Peter will conduct these sessions from his house in the Highlands of Scotland.

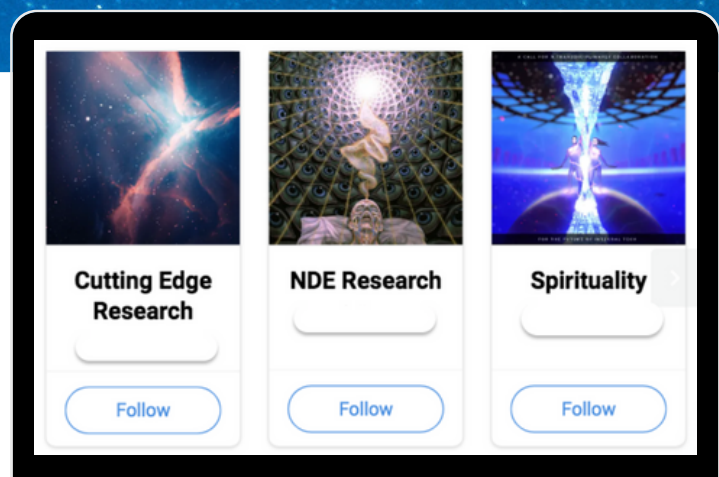

Members' Dialogue with Paul Filmore

• Every Monday • 6:00 to 7:30 pm (BST)

Paul writes: 'These sessions aim to utilise the diversity of thought and wisdom that Network members have in profusion. Positive thoughts will be captured on our social platform, Tribe. Themes include: mind-sets, creativity, peace, community, change, resilience, positivity, co-creation.'

Our social networking space provides a place for members, and non-members, to interact in a number of different ways. There are different groups and topics, including areas for our community calls, and each new webinar we have creates a new opportunity for discussion.

Our Network publications and podcasts are free for members

Our 76-page educational journal, Paradigm Explorer (available in print and in PDF), is a great place to find in-depth articles, latest book reviews and personal accounts. And our regular PDF newsletter, Towards a New Renaissance, features opinions and article and video recommendations.

The Bookcast and the Book Briefing with David Lorimer
• A regular podcast on RedCircle and a monthly Zoom call •
David writes: "The Bookcast is a podcast recording one or two of the many book reviews I have published in Paradigm Explorer. And every month I hold a special call - the Book Briefing - to discuss books I am currently reading and my reflections on them."
